

Peer Review -
Name : Jeffery Peter

The assignment project by Jeffrey was easily reproducible.

The installation and set up did not consume anytime. It was easy due to the clear instructions in the Github wiki.

The project is an implementation of communication between services in different languages using Thrift.

The project is structured well, making it easy to understand the different services and the how they are connected.

Jeffrey addressed the enhancement comment of distinguishing the UI from the micro services which was a good improvement in the assignment.

Could improve on :

1. Could use a good use case to make the project more functional and use the advantage of micro service oriented architecture.
2. The code should improve on readability and comments should be put in.